

ARMANI/CASA Overseen by Mr. Armani himself, this brand's 4,000-square-foot showroom houses sophisticated (think '30s, '40s, and the Far East) furniture, as well as its new outdoor collection, which was introduced last year. armani.com

BOFFI/DEPADOVA MIAMI Interiors for city-centric lifestyles are the hallmark of this showroom. boffi.com

LINEA STUDIO Kitchens, bathrooms, and closet systems sourced from manufacturers across Italy. thelineastudio.com

LUXURY LIVING Part of the Design District since 2004, the Italian Luxury Living is not solely dedicated to brands from its home country. However, the company's 7,700-square-foot showroom is the exclusive distributor of Dolce & Gabbana Casa, and Trussardi Casa in South Florida. Its portfolio also includes Versace Home. MINOTTI MIAMI Established in Italy in 1948, Minotti opened shop in the Design District in 2015 with a 10,000-square-foot showroom marked by slabs of wood from floor to ceiling that separate the brand's handmade furniture collections into stylish vignettes. minotti.com

MOLTENI&C/DADA Founded in 1934 by Angelo Molteni, Molteni&C has the distinction of being one of the few companies to have participated in every edition of Salone. In 1979, the group acquired Dada and quickly gained a prominent place in the field of quality kitchens. Since the early 2000s, the brand has grown exponentially with new stores and collections, including last year's inaugural outdoor line by Vincent Van Duysen. NATUZZI ITALIA Smooth lines and modern casual design have been the hallmark of this brand since founder Pasquale Natuzzi first started making sofas "with a second-hand sewing machine, a hammer, and four scissors" in his Taranto studio apartment back in 1959. natuzzi.com

POLIFORM From sofas to storage units, Poliform covers all rooms in the house. The company released its first outdoor collection to much success last year. poliform.com

VERSACE HOME Furniture, lighting, accessories, soft goods, and tableware inspired by the arts is the best way to describe Versace Home's inventory. versace.com

Out of the Box

When Paola Lenti decided to open shop in Miami in 2022, she bypassed the Design District for its more bohemian neighbor to the south, Wynwood. "We often choose unconventional areas for our flagship stores," said Lenti to FD Miami at the time. "That's the Paola Lenti style." Opened together with local partner Casual Furniture Group, the 7,000-square-foot showroom is designed as a concept house with different environs to showcase the brand's lines and collaborations, including the colorful Metamorfoosi collection by the Campana Brothers.
