

THE NUMBERS GAME

With 10,000 square feet of interior living space, 5,000 square feet of patios and decks, five bedrooms, seven full bathrooms, three powder rooms, a four-car garage, a glass-bottom infinity pool and expansive city views, this contemporary mansion exemplifies luxury hillside living.

MAKE A SPLASH

The infinity pool—adjacent to the living room and theater—is constructed of glass on three sides, offering swimmers a sparkling skyline view. From the theater, it is possible to draw automatic shades to cover the pool. The lounge chairs ($10,674 for the pair), coffee table ($3,679), side table ($2,574) and pouf ($2,293) by Paola Lenti (paolalenti.it) mingle beautifully with the sculptural Bonacina Ellipses sofa ($21,004, Niche Beverly, L.A., nichebeverly.com).

ROCK SOLID

The showstopping custom bathtub—with hardware and a faucet from Dornbracht's (dornbracht.com) Lulu collection—rivals the foliage-filled vista from the master bathroom. A Robert Kuo chair ($6,900), custom mirror and cabinet, and creamy light vein Calacatta Superior marble beautifully complement the wide-plank walnut wood floors.
